Subject: Memorial Landing

From Marcus Hensley:

Shipmates,

Progress at the memorial remains at All ahead full. This Thursday at 1100 the memorial itself will be landed at our construction site. The news will be there as well, and we welcome anyone that wants to attend and see this historic occasion. If you have any questions please let me know by email at marcus.d.hensley@gmail.com.

Our pavers remain on schedule to be installed next week and soon we will publish the plan to lay them to the volunteers who will be on site next week. We are a bit light on volunteers so if you can consider being down there for a day or part of one for next week, we could still use some additional assistance. Please email me and let me know if you can make it. Working hours are 0600-1400.

Best Regards,

Marcus Hensley
